Oldie Moldies Out In The Wild

Dear Diary...

Hey Guys!! I thought maybe I'd use a page of the newsletter as a mini diary segment sometimes – if y'all are cool with it!

On the creative side it's going steady! I've been pushing myself to do more skits and quick thinking improv videos. My favorite parts of creating content are writing and exporting the final video off of my computer but I LOATHE heavy editing – but it must be done haha! My baby nephew Jamie is growing big and growing fast. He's 6 months old now and I can't believe it! He's starting to crawl and exploring new food - I believe avocado was on the menu the other day. HAHA!

I'm thinking of doing some spring cleaning – I'm talking a DEEP clean of my office and room. I for one feel so refreshed and reset when I can go through my stuff and thin out what I don't need. The only problem is that I can find a use for most objects as props in videos so it's hard to let go of stuff. LMAO It will be a challenge but a fun one at that!

Anyways, I have a special project I've been working on that I can't wait to share with you guys! I MIGHT have snuck off to a state down south for a couple days... stay tuned!

March Facts

March is known as the most unproductive month of the year.

March 14th was National Potato Chip day and March 9th was National Fanny Pack day.

Affodils are the birth flower of people born in March.

March became National Women's Month starting in 1987.

Movies such as The Godfather (1972), The Outsiders (1983), & Pretty Women (1990) all hit theaters in March.

From the Vault

Cruising around the back patio in my sick ride!! Pretty sure this was from a chilly April day in the 90s.

Anonymous Gossip

What's good in the neighborhood?!? Anonymous stories submitted by fans!

- Upstairs neighbors are moving. An old armchair flew past our balcony yesterday.
 - I'm planning to hook up with my roommate's brother... oops.
- My neighbors have NEVER put their trash cans out... they moved in 8 months ago.
 - I think my 85 year old neighbor is an arsonist.
- Pretty sure both my neighbors are having an affair with each other.

Women in Film and TV

Highlighting some women in TV and film that have paved the way, make us laugh, and have inspired so many others to join them on the big screen !

Lucille Ball

Star of the multi-award winning show I Love Lucy (1951-1957). After her divorce she became the first woman to own a major studio – Desilu Productions. That production company went on to create shows like The Dick Van Dyke Show and Star Trek! It also adapted techniques still used today in the industry such as live studio audiences and 3 camera set-ups.

Betty White

99 years old and often referred to as the “First Woman of Television” – Betty White is a legend! Among all her roles and achievements, she was one of the first females to produce a sitcom. She has been doing work as recently as 2019.

Madeline Anderson

Credited as the 1st black women to produce/direct a TV documentary, one of the 1st black women to join the editor's union, and more groundbreaking roles/jobs in the industry. Fun Fact: Madeline Anderson even directed Sesame Street!

Women's History Month

In honor of March and celebrating women I asked you guys to tell me the women in your everyday life that inspire you!

- "My co-workers b/c they empower young women to be strong & resilient."
- "My sister, Angela, b/c she's a true warrior in the female small business world."
- "My daughter for being fearless & brave."
- "My BF Laura has served in the Navy for 15 years as a Gunners Mate – she's a total badass & would give the shirt off her back!"
- "My Mom puts up with everyone's BS & still smiles everyday."
- "My mom b/c she beat breast cancer this last year & through it all she stayed positive."
- "My mom because she's an immigrant who didn't know English & she got her GED at 38."
- "My grandma b/c she always strives to keep learning."
- "My BF – she is resilient & always finds a way to move forward."
- "My daughter, Harmony, b/c she doesn't know the word quit!"
- "My girl squad at work b/c this school year has been crazy & they have kept me sane!"
- "My mom b/c she's working towards her Masters degree."
- "My daughter, Luna, who triumphs over her anxiety everyday!"
- "Me!" I've been running a business & been able to pay my bills on time & get a new work van."
- "My sister b/c she is a Covid Occupational therapist who always puts her patients first."
- "My grandma, Joyce, is a hardworking, backboned, powerful woman!"
- "My sister b/c she's a frontline worker at a pharmacy."
- "My grandma – she's in her 80s & still works full time, goes to school, & volunteers to teach nurses."
- "My boss b/c she leads with kindness but also doesn't roll over when it's time to stand up and fight."
- "My great aunt is a breast cancer survivor and leukemia patient. She's a badass with the kindest heart & spirit."
- "My sister b/c she is battling a mental illness."

An advice column from Alloy's POV.

Topic: Anxiety

Question: I get such bad anxiety when I have to try new things - HELP!!

Alloy's Answer: I can relate!! Trying to new things can be scary and anxiety inducing but try and shift your focus on how exciting the experience can be and not how anxious you are! Sometimes if you're nervous and in your head too much you need to get up and move. Take a walk or do some jumping jacks to work some of the nervous energy out. Life is about stepping out of your comfort zone as often as possible – which isn't easy for anyone! Good luck and try something new!!!

XOXO Alloy
